Unsung Hero Award

Ehab Georgy

West Suffolk NHS Foundation Trust

Ehab Georgy is a highly respected and humble leader whose work within the Stroke Early Supported Discharge service has delivered significant, system-wide impact. Known for going above and beyond his role, Ehab combines strategic leadership with hands-on commitment, strengthening both his own service and the wider stroke care pathway. He is recognised for his willingness to challenge the status quo, take calculated risks and drive innovation to improve outcomes for patients and services.

Ehab has been instrumental in transforming stroke rehabilitation through the expansion of group therapy and virtual support, making services more accessible, sustainable and effective. His focus on innovation is matched by a strong commitment to workforce development, creating a supportive environment where staff feel valued, empowered and motivated. This has led to excellent retention, strong team performance and consistently high-quality care.

Despite his strategic responsibilities, Ehab remains highly visible within the team, offering practical support and leading by example. His collaborative approach has earned the respect of colleagues, patients and system partners, and his influence extends beyond his immediate service through shared learning and partnership working.

The impact of his leadership is clear: improved patient recovery, confidence and access to rehabilitation, alongside a stable and skilled workforce. Ehab continues to champion equitable access to therapy services across Suffolk, supported by evidence-based practice and data. His contributions have also been formally recognised by the Chartered Society of Physiotherapy.

Through dedication, innovation and humility, Ehab exemplifies the qualities of an unsung hero, delivering lasting improvements across stroke care.
